Our Objectives

The DEMANDS project is committed to empowering workers, fostering inclusion, and bridging cultural gaps. Explore how our objectives align with the energy transition and support workforce development.

- Identify coal industry workers' communication needs
- Develop effective training methodologies
- Ensure employability and inclusion
- Foster intercultural communication
- Train VET educators
- Promote sustainable workforce practices

DEMANDS Project

Developing intercultural communication skills for coal industry (ex)workers

DEMANDS is an EU-funded Erasmus+ project designed to upskill workers, enhance intercultural communication, and support workforce inclusion during the energy transition.

Supporting workers in the energy transition with innovative tools and training

Who Benefits

The DEMANDS project is designed to support a wide range of audiences affected by the energy transition. From low-skilled workers seeking new opportunities to vocational educators and industry stakeholders, DEMANDS provides tools and training to foster inclusion, adaptability, and collaboration.

- Low-skilled (ex)workers from the coal industry
- VET providers and educators
- Stakeholders and industry partners
